PARKING CHARGE NOTICE

UNACCEPTABLE GROUNDS FOR APPEAL

My paid parking expired 10 minutes before the Parking Charge Notice (PCN) was issued

- All PCN's are only issued after a reasonable 'grace period' has been given

I am a Permit holder but I did not display my permit

- It is part of the Season Ticket Conditions of Issue (Para 3) that 'the season ticket must be displayed on the inside of the windscreen on the vehicle' when using the car park

I did not realise there was a time limit for free parking or a 'no return' time in operation

- There are clear and adequate signs visible from all parts of the car park giving this information

I did not realise I had to display a Free parking ticket

- At certain car parks it is necessary to display a ticket showing that you are parking without charge. There will be clear and adequate signs visible from all parts of these car parks explaining what to do.

I am a Disabled (Blue) Badge holder and my Disabled (Blue) Badge allows me to park anywhere I like

- The Blue Badge scheme privileges are for parking on-street only and are not applicable on private land (unless indicated on signage). A booklet is supplied with every Blue Badge giving details of correct usage.

I parked in a Disabled Bay and I am not a Disabled (Blue) Badge holder but there was no where else to park

- Signage in the bay clearly indicates that these spaces are reserved solely for use by Disabled (Blue) Badge holders.

I did not see the signs

- There are clear and adequate signs visible from all parts of the car park. It is the responsibility of the driver to ensure that they comply with the Terms & Conditions at any car park where on site parking is provided.

I am not from this area and I am unfamiliar with the signs

- There are clear and adequate signs visible from all parts of the car park. It is the responsibility of the driver to ensure that they comply with the Terms & Conditions at any car park where on site parking is provided.

The Parking Charge Notice was not attached to my windscreen

- All Parking Charge Notices are attached to the windscreen in secure waterproof wallets.

I did not park over 2 or more bays

- This Parking Charge Notice would not have been issued if this was not the case.
